Description

Clio, a new De Rigo Refrigeration proposal.

A valid reply to the market's request of a new way of showing and selling frozen food.

Clio is an integral vertical display cabinet running on R290 , energy efficient, standing alone or multiplexed upon request.

De Rigo, with this project, is offering a plug-in unit with one of the largest display areas currently available in the market integrating LED lighting to maximize visibility of the products facilitating customers selection.

A revolutionary way to optimize the volume of products displayed inside a vertical freezer, allowing the use of the entire available surface area to improve Visual Merchandising.
